Today Aqualogy presented a new short film. The film tells the story of a brand that has a past, present and a future. It shows geographical areas such as the Mediterranean; several countries, such as Chile and the United States; and the various markets in which Aqualogy is present, such as agriculture, industry and urban planning, with its local roots and capacity to adapt wherever the brand may find itself.

The short film by Aqualogy reflects the reality of each of us. 'We are all Aqualogy, we are Aqualogy People. Aqualogy People is a new culture, a new way of seeing things', said the Chairman of Aqualogy, Angel Simon, at the presentation of the film, which took place at the Agbar Tower during the closing ceremony of the 2012 edition and the opening of the 2013 edition of the Master's Degree in Water Management and Technology.
